5. PPCA Guidance on Comparison of Materials
The PPCA Board of Directors would like to remind all PPXIX participants of PPCA's guidance regarding the issue of comparisons. It is confirmed that the PPCA conferences must continue to maintain a strict policy to not allow direct comparisons between the performance of different primary plastic materials used for the same product application. This has always been a fundamental principle of the Plastic Pipes Conference which was unanimously agreed between the founding associations. However, this does not apply to comparisons between different variants of the same material (e.g. PVC and PVC-O or PP-R and PP-RCT) or of course comparisons with other "non-plastic" alternative materials.
6. I Agree to the copyright statement below:

Copyright Statement:

The PPCA recognizes that the copyright of the abstracts and papers remains vested exclusively with either the individual author or their employer, dependent upon their contractual arrangements.

By accepting this (or any subsequent) invitation to present a paper at a PPCA conference the author on his own behalf or on behalf of his employer as the copyright holder consents to PPCA taking the following steps:

1. Publishing the abstract (in whole or in part) in the conference program and in electronic format e.g. USB for distribution at the conference.

2. Placing the full paper (or any extract thereof) on the PPCA website (subsequent to the conference) and indicating that such is available to be downloaded without charge but only for personal use and on the strict understanding that it is not for republication.
3. Use the PowerPoint presentation (in whole or in part) at the specific conference and at any subsequent PPCA funded spin off conferences as the PPCA shall determine is appropriate although only with the copyright owners prior approval and, where appropriate, participation.

In each instance the PPCA will give credit to the copyright owner so that they may be readily identified.
